

HEIN CITE

V. 43, No. 204

2004

ROUTING

- Acquisitions
- Serials
- Technical Services
- Reference
- Documents
- International
- Other _____

STATUS

- Have
- Do Not Have
- Order
- On Order
- Recommended

330130 1/04

Is War Futile?

Hein Is Pleased to Offer a Reprint Edition of this Pre-World War I Title by One of the Era's Leading Anti-War Activists!!

THE ARBITER IN COUNCIL

By Francis Wrigley Hirst

Francis Wrigley Hirst was a prolific writer and skillful biographer who devoted his life to the cause of individual liberty at a time when collectivism reigned. As a stalwart advocate of free trade and the peaceful resolution of disputes during the first half of the 20th century (especially during World War I and its aftermath), Hirst advanced these principles through writings, which exposed how government policies that limited the importation of foreign goods and promoted warfare were severely detrimental to the overall well-being of the international community.

In 1906, Hirst sought financing from fellow anti-protectionist J. P. Thomasson and anonymously published The Arbiter in Council, a truly original work that analyzed the “follies of war” based primarily on economic grounds.

To distinguish The Arbiter in Council from other books of its kind, Hirst chose to compose it as a series of hypothetical conversations between a former associate of 19th century British politician Richard Cobden, a leading supporter of free trade and opponent of protectionism, and a number of other people.

In a concise and interesting fashion, the work explores all the relevant topics, including the causes and consequences of war, modern warfare, private war and the duel, the concept of perpetual peace, the political economy of war, and Christianity and war.

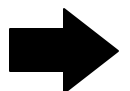

Today, Francis Wrigley Hirst is admired as a preeminent supporter of personal freedom and a valiant defender of the Cobdenite tradition of peace and free trade. While several of his works have survived, The Arbiter in Council remains the most influential example of his enduring legacy.

1 volume.....$86.00

Item #330130; vi, 567 pages; ISBN 1-57588-790-8; LC 2003056642

Originally Published: London; MacMillan and Co., Limited; 1906

Reprinted: Buffalo; William S. Hein & Co., Inc; 2003

Other Important Works on International Relations from the Early 20th Century . . .

DECLARATION OF LONDON

FEBRUARY 26, 1909

A Collection of Official Papers and Documents

Edited by James Brown Scott

AALS Law Books Recommended for Libraries
List 46, International Law, Page 38, "B" Rated

Constitutes the best statement of the laws of war at sea as they stood in 1914, and it marks the high tide, historically of the liberalization of those laws.

1 volume.....$55.00
Item #324490; xiii, 268 pages; ISBN 1-57588-571-9;
LC 00-026777
Originally Published: New York; Oxford University
Press; 1919
Reprinted: Buffalo; William S. Hein & Co., Inc; 2000

DEVELOPMENT OF INTERNATIONAL LAW AFTER THE WORLD WAR

By Otfried Nippold

With an introduction by James Brown Scott

Reprint of the first English edition published under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. This important study was written during the First World War and was one of the first to propose a league of nations. Nippold argues that the conflict created a need for a radical reinterpretation of the law of war, since modern war cannot be given the character of a legal institution because it is really a negation of law. War, he concludes, is self-help on the part of the aggressor nation. (Fenwick, International Law (3rd ed.) xxv-I cited in Marke, A Catalogue of the Law Collection at New York University (1953) 576.)

1 volume.....$75.00
Item #329640; xv, 241 pages; ISBN 1-58477-270-0;
LC 2002025965
Originally Published: Oxford; Clarendon Press; 1923
Reprinted: New York; Lawbook Exchange, Ltd.; 2003
Distributed by William S. Hein & Co., Inc.

ORIGIN, STRUCTURE AND WORKING OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By C. Howard-Ellis

Surveys the League's components and the role of its chief associated bodies, the International Court of Justice and the International Labor Organization. Other sections consider its approach to open and secret diplomacy, the ratification of conventions and the function of related technical organizations. The author, though enthusiastic about the League, recognizes the weaknesses in its charter and organization. These flaws are not inherent in the League, he argues; they are a consequence of its reliance on prior international law, which is plagued by weakness and ambiguity. Contains an appendix.

1 volume..... $95.00
Item #329610; 528 pages; ISBN 1-58477-320-0;
LC 2002041362
Originally Published: Boston; Houghton Mifflin
Company; 1929
Reprinted: New York; Lawbook Exchange, Ltd.; 2003
Distributed by William S. Hein & Co., Inc.

TREATIES, THEIR MAKING AND ENFORCEMENT

By Samuel B. Crandall

This exceptional work on treaties analyzes agency and the right of ratification, essentials of their validity, the reality of consent, and the operation of treaties, from the date they take effect to their interpretation and termination. It explores treaty-making in the United States in great depth, and discusses treaty-making in Germany, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy, and other countries, as well.

1 volume..... $55.00
Item #327020; 255 pages; ISBN 1-57588-708-8;
LC 2001051634
Originally Published: New York; Columbia
University; 1904
Reprinted: Buffalo; William S. Hein & Co., Inc; 2001

Cost of Carriage Not Included; New York State, Colorado State and GST Taxes Where Applicable

WILLIAM S. HEIN & CO., INC.

Primus Inter Pares

Law Publisher / Serial & Subscription Agent / Micropublisher / New and Used Law Books / Preservation Printer / Bookbinder

1285 Main Street, Buffalo, New York 14209 (716) 882-2600 • TOLL FREE (800) 828-7571 • Fax (716) 883-8100

E-Mail heincite@wshein.com • Web Site www.wshein.com